

PAUL FENTON-SMITH

Biography

Clairvoyant, writer and regular media guest Paul Fenton-Smith is the author of ten books. With simple language and entertaining examples, Paul takes a practical approach to the esoteric. Whether reading for clients, teaching or conveying his knowledge through books, Paul's realistic approach brings clear benefits to people's everyday lives.

His engaging, anecdotal approach has won him a worldwide readership and invitations to share his entertaining insights on television, radio and in magazines and newspapers around Australia.

Paul began his studies with a course in palmistry in 1978. Moving from Adelaide to Sydney in 1980, he studied the tarot in 1984 and completed a Diploma in Clinical Hypnotherapy (1986) before leaving for London for further study. He also attended a counselling course in 1992 and completed a Grad. Dip. in Counselling in 2015.

In 1985 Paul established the Academy of Psychic Sciences in Sydney, aiming to set a standard in the industry. All students who seek certification through the Academy must successfully complete written and practical examinations and abide by a set of ethics.

Aside from his teaching commitments at the Academy, Paul is currently writing more books. He also runs a busy private practice in Sydney as a clairvoyant, counsellor and hypnotherapist and conducts courses around Australia. Through practising and teaching the psychic sciences for more than 35 years, Paul encourages his clients and students to believe only what they can see or experience for themselves.
